CHILDRENS MINISTRY

This past week we remembered the tragedy of 9/11. I was reminded that all of those brave, first responders rushed into the buildings, as people were desperately running for their lives. It made me think that this is also our mission in the world. We should be the first responders in a fallen world. Meeting people's felt needs is what we are called to do, so that we can make a felt impact on our community.

In the coming week, in light of this time, try to meet the needs of someone in your community or friend group. Meeting the most obvious needs of others leads to conversation and conversation leads to relationship. Relationship is where true mentoring can happen, which can offer up a place to speak about the important things in this world; like the existence of God and one's salvation. Jesus knew this and we would do well to follow His example. "And He said to them, 'Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature.'" Mark 16:15
